

Dale Henderson Los Angeles Bach Festival 2018

SOWING THE SEEDS FOR FUTURE GENERATIONS OF CLASSICAL MUSIC LOVERS

Dale Henderson visits the West Coast “to bring Bach, and by extension, classical music, to as many people as possible” (The New York Times).

BRING THE MUSIC TO THE CHILDREN

Childhood moments of musical discovery change lives, and ultimately change the world. But with little to no exposure to classical music, especially in lower income neighborhoods, how can future classical music lovers find what their hearts and ears yearn for? Bach in the Subways founder Dale Henderson and L.A. Bach Festival team up to address this deficit by bringing the music to the children who otherwise would not have a chance to hear it.
